

Isla Beaches

Our beaches draw unique landscapes where the waters reflect the lush beauty around them.

Island coastline offers a unique view of the Bay of Biscay and also several spaces in which to enjoy the sun and swimming. In total six beaches that characterize if anything, it is his willingness sheltered from the winds, its fine sand and crystal clear waters .

The beaches of Isla enjoy excellent conditions and services as well as good access and parking . In fact, they are distinguished for their safety, allowing the practice of all kinds of water sports and even underwater fishing.

Playa de la cava

This beach is located in a privileged place in Isla. It is right at the start of the marshes of Joyel, where the tide mill is located. In exceptional surroundings, visitors can enjoy total peace and relaxation while watching a magnificent view of the Cantabrian coast.

Playa el Cándano

Perhaps one of the most beautiful parts of Island. It is a small cove surrounded by cliffs that make up a beautiful landscape. Sheltered from the winds, this beach becomes the ideal place to practice water and beach sports with the entire family.

Playa de los Barcos

It is washed by the estuary of Quejo. If something is characterized because its panoramic is fully subject to the tides. Depending on whether high or low tide, you will discover to us a completely different landscape. In fact, at low tide you can go walking to Noja, the neighboring town. This beach gets its name by fishing boats usually arrive and rest nearby.

Playa El Sable

It is most familiar as it is in the center of the village of Quejo. It is protected from winds and rough seas, so that children find in this enclave an ideal place to learn to swim and practice sports safely. This beach has information services, surveillance and rescue, as well as priests module. The Sable beach has wheelchair access, showers and toilets. In addition, for the convenience of visitors in the summer months it offers a large parking capacity.

Arnadal beach

This beach is located at the foot of breathtaking scenery as the cliffs that make the coast of Trasmiera. Rock walls also protect it from the winds and recreate a place of unparalleled beauty. The Arnadal, also known as The French, is a semi-virgin beach of fine golden sand. It looks like a cove and access to it can only be done on foot.

Playa de la Arena

In full mouth of the river Campiazo we find one of the most impressive and extensive beaches of Isla. This is the beach of Arena, a huge tongue of about 1 km in length. It lies at the foot of a spectacular oak that dominates the innermost and wildest part of this beach. Then we access a flirtatious Creek and then to the family beach area.

Among other services Beach Arena has access and disabled toilets, security, lifeguards and showers. They are available to users and an information module cures and health care. Near the beach there is ample parking with 200 spaces.

